

The P5 Formula to Live Stream Like A Pro Resource Guide from UpwardAction® Media

This Resource Guide shares a few of our favorite tools for Live Streaming Like A Pro.

We know that sometimes it can be hard to identify and find the best tools for your online broadcasting needs. This Resource Guide is designed to help you get the tools you need to be successful online.

This Resource Guide is for your information only. Neither UpwardAction® nor TC Cooper provides any guarantees or warranties regarding the use of any tool or resource described in these pages.

This Resource Guide contains Amazon links to tools and resources that we use at UpwardAction® or have researched for your consideration. These are affiliate links, which means that if you make a purchase through a link in this guide - we may receive a commission on your purchase. Using these links will not increase the purchase price of the product; Amazon pays the commission.

Each of the tools and resources that we share supports at least one component of the P5 Formulas for live streaming like a pro. Use them and start streaming like a pro. Let's go!

The P5 Formula

Here's the green screen that we use, for the rare occasions that TC uses a green screen:

- Newer Chromakey Green Chromakey Blue Collapsible Backdrop Collapsible Reversible Background 5'x7' Chroma-Key Blue/Green. Check this out on Amazon at <https://amzn.to/2ExJUMB>.

Sidebar: We've found that using this green screen is tricky with a MacBook Pro's internal camera because the Macbook camera has a wide range; however, it works very well with the cameras on smartphones.

Now that we've covered Presentation, let move on to connecting with your People.

3. Let's cover connecting with PEOPLE essentials for maximizing the energy and impact of your online broadcasts.

In addition to following the advice shared in this live streaming program, check out the UpwardAction® YouTube channel for videos on building a magnetic brand and engaging community.

- We pulled a video from our training vault and put it on our YouTube channel just for this Resource Guide. It's from TC's early days of broadcasting on Periscope. The background and style of presentation are dated but the content share is still solid. Check it out at <https://youtu.be/6KArxJYAXXQ>.

Sidebar: The content shared in this video is solid, even though the video is dated, because TC focused on strategy, and not just tactics.

Now that we've covered People, let move on to generating Profitable returns.

4. Let's cover PROFIT-oriented essentials for getting a return on the investment of your time.

Check out our resources to help you plan and distribute your content like a pro.

- Watch a short video from our UpwardAction YouTube channel for tips on how to create compelling content for your social media account. Check it out at <https://youtu.be/NkzdmWfLl6c>.
- Our team uses SocialBee to repurpose social media content all over the internet. You can check it out at <https://socialbee.grsm.io/upwardaction>.

Now that we've covered Profit, let's move on to Platform considerations.

5. Let's cover PLATFORM selection and safety essentials for taking care of your audience.
